"Women Subscribers."

It was the remark of some acute and sensible gentleman, doubtless of some experience in the "art and mystery" of printing, that he could tell the trust-worthiness of every man upon a printer's books by a simple glance at the credit side of his account. Perhaps It was Dr. Franklin who made that profound observation, but, whoever he was, it showed a deep insight into human nature. Our only regret is that, if it be true that no man is to be relied upon in any way or shape who does not with credit the fiery ordeal. In this respect, we agree with an Alabama paper, from which we make the following extract, and with the Fredericksburg News whose racy comments we also subjoin, that the women set an example which the 296,643,554 men might well follow. We can add our own editorial testimony to theirs that we have ever found the ladies prompt and conscientious, not only in 2,442,000,000,000 themselves paying the printer, but in jogging the somewhat torpid consciences of the lords of creation. We also agree in opinion with the News that "women are better than men in every relation

Says an Alabama cotemporary, "Women are the best subscribers in the world to newspapers, magazines, etc. We have been editor now going and the printer-two classes of the community that suffer more by bad pay (and no pay at all) than all the rest put together. Whenever we have a woman's name on our books we know it is just as good for two dollars and a half as a picayune is for a ginger cake. Besides, whatever they subscribe for they read, whether it be good, bad, cr indifferent. If they once subscribe for a paper they are sure to read, it upon the principle, we prepared a dose of oil, she took it herself rather than let it be wasted. Hence, we say, they are THE WEIGHT OF THE HUMAN BRAIN. - The the best readers. For these reasons, we had, any

> "The editor says he would rather have 'a dozen women on his books than one man.' We suppose so. We had rather have one woman (provided we had the choosing of her) than forty dozen men. Women are better than men in any relation of life. They are more honest, more virtuous, and more trust-worthy. Robert Hall says they are more pious. The proportion who go to Heaven, he tells us, is "as five women to three men." "The extreme range," Dr. P. observes, "in The proportion who are honest in their transacfrom 34 oz. to 62 oz. 12 dr., the number of brains ber.
